Local politics vote for the best man. NEW YORK is now the pivotal state in the presidential contest.

Mr. Beecher ought to make one more speech for Cleveland, and read just one more letter.

It is estimated that over one hundred thousand persons greeted Blaine in Chicago Saturday night.

The republican leaders in West Virginia still claim that that state will give a jury for Blaine.

JOHN M. THURSTON is shining with a borrowed light in the ocean story business.

LAIRD's confederates in the Republican valley expect to carry things with a high hand this fall by voting gravel trains and fraudulent election returns.

This is a presidential year but republicans are not obliged to elect railroad capers and do-nothings to congress because they are for Blaine and Logan.

It was very fortunate that Blaine and Logan did not come together in Chicago as some of the immense crowds would have been obliged to seek "standing room" in the lake.

Now that the candidates of the democratic and republican parties have been nominated, hand-shaking and button-holing will be their principal occupation for the next week.

A strenuous effort was made by the friends of Butler to get up a boom for him in Buffalo. It died in its cradle.

CHARLES J. HAMMOND in a long open letter to Henry Ward Beecher asks him among other things if he finds the democracy better in the present than in the past.

MR. BLAINE's visit is an open confession that Illinois is a doubtful state.

The unparalleled reception of the next president in Chicago should settle forever the foolish rumor that Illinois is a doubtful state.

MR. DANIEL McSWEENEY has been brought from his home in Donegal to electioneer for the democratic party.

A RICH Pennsylvania recently committed suicide rather than pay his taxes.

THE democracy of Chicago is certainly in a great strait when it is obliged to bring the venerable Mrs. Parnell from her New Jersey home to plead its cause.

THE reception of Mr. Blaine in New York City will be the most enthusiastic event of the campaign.

THE shortest sentence of imprisonment ever given to any man was probably that which was imposed upon John T. Pleasant, an editor of a newspaper at Petersburg, Va., who was recently convicted of libel.

STATE papers are being imposed on by designing parties who say that constitutional amendments must be voted on separate tickets and in separate ballot boxes.

THE shot-gun policy is again being carried out in Mississippi, and a great deal of bloodshed is expected between now and the close of the campaign.

THE democrats and republicans of Douglas county have made their nominations.

BLAINE AND CLEVELAND.

One week from to-day the American people will elect either James G. Blaine or Grover Cleveland as president of the United States. While a great many electors will vote in accordance with their party principles, without regard to the consideration of the personal qualifications of the candidates, a large number will carefully weigh the merits of the presidential aspirants to ascertain who is the more fit man to fill the most important position within the gift of the people.

Mr. Blaine is to-day universally acknowledged to be the ablest statesman in this country. No man possesses all the qualifications for the presidential office in a more eminent degree than he. He has taken a leading part in national affairs during nearly all the years of his manhood—over twenty-five years—in the halls of congress and out. As a parliamentarian he has no superior, and of international law and affairs generally he has a practical knowledge that will serve him admirably in the conduct of a foreign policy.

Mr. Cleveland on the other hand, is a very mediocre man. He has attained moderate success in the political field of New York more by luck than by merit. He is not by any means a statesman, and never will be.

WHEN base ball players are offered $10,000 for three years' services it is plain evidence it is better to run for bases than to run for office, especially, as in the first case, there are no Nebraska political assessments lying around foul.

A REMARKABLE WAR RELIC. Hair Growing on a Bullet That Passed Through a Man's Brain.

PHILADELPHIA, October 17.—That hair grows upon the human body after death has been a theory held by many prominent physicians, but discredited by the profession generally.

AT the urgent request of the democratic national committee Cleveland will make a few speeches in New York state this week.

A VERY curious relic in the possession of a Pottsville bookkeeper, a veteran of the late war, was examined by several Philadelphia doctors recently, and appears to furnish conclusive proof that death does not always put an end to the growth of hair upon portions of the human body, even after the lapse of many years.

It is to be hoped that the people will vote for the best men, irrespective of party. They should do this especially in voting for members of the legislature. We want men in the legislature who are known to be in favor of the people as against corporate monopoly.

THE NEW YORK MAYORALTY.

The fight for the mayoralty of New York is a triangular affair. Tammany's candidate is Hugh J. Grant, whose sole claim to notoriety is his recent vote against the Broadway railway charter. Ex-Mayor Grace has been nominated by the county democracy, backed by Irving Hall. This is what is called the Cleveland ticket, and John Kelly is "ferocious" it. Mr. Kelly, in the New York Star, says that when Grace formerly ran for mayor, he was generally believed to be a high-toned gentleman and honorable merchant, but it was only after his election that the people came to know him for what he really is.

From the present appearances it does not seem likely that the electoral ticket will be involved to any serious extent in the local deal. The course of the machine is certainly not calculated to benefit the Blaine cause, and it seems to indicate that nothing of the kind is intended. The machine now holds much the same relation to the republican party that Tammany does to the democratic party.

ACCORDING to statistics, furnished by the government bureau devoted to such matters, the success of the democratic party, and consequently the south, would place the shaping of the political, as well as the financial affairs of the government, in the hands of a section containing only about one-third of the population of the country.

SECRETS OF THE HORSE TRADE. A Yankee Tells How Circus Men Sometimes Win and Sometimes Lose.

When the votes are all counted on the night of the 4th of November the republican machine managers of Nebraska will be convinced of the error they have made in foisting upon the party candidates that are both objectionable and unpopular.

was a good soldier during the war and was in the front in some of the hottest engagements of that great struggle. From the Detroit Free Press. The Walkerville Ferry landing on the Detroit side, the customs department has placed a lady detective, who is doing service in detecting the smuggling of straw braid, which is carried on by many of the fair sex of Essex county, particularly the residents of the township of Sandwich East.

"Do I catch many smuggling, you ask? Oh, yes; sometimes as many as three in a day."

"How do they conceal the braid?"

"They have several ways of concealing it. Some wrap it up in a bundle and make a bundle of it, others make it in yard loops, tie it around themselves and then tuck their coat over it, and another plan is to pass a string over the loops, tie the string around the waist and let the loops hang down with the skirt.

"What is the duty on braid?"

"The duty is 20 per cent, but the value of the braid varies from $1 to $4 per 100 yards. Sometimes when expensive and costly braid is being smuggled, the woman will pay the duty on a lot of cheap articles as a blind."

"How many yards can be comfortably concealed in the manner stated?"

"The most braid that I have found concealed on one person was 466 yards. This woman was particularly slender, and could conceal more and not be detected owing to this. One day last week I took a little less than 1,000 yards from a woman, and she was so fat, which they had concealed. The smuggling is carried on mostly during the last two days of the week, the fore part of the week being given to the manufacture of the braid.
